*“ Among the adults
who were sexually
abused during their childhood, 80%
disclosed the abuse and 35% received services.*

*Thus, 20% reported
never disclosing the abuse experienced as children. And, 65%
never sought or received services to help them. ”*

What traumas have these adults experienced during childhood?

For each of the interpersonal traumas, the proportion of mothers is slightly higher.

Statistically significant differences indicate that the mothers are more likely than the fathers...

- to have been a victim of sexual abuse (59% vs 13%)
- to have experienced emotional abuse (67% vs 36%)
